Hootenanny Hoot, Predictable comedy about college hootenanny show carried to Television is made tolerable only by presence of Money and other nation/people actors. This is one of Sam Katzman's "normal" low-budget films. Cast includes Gene Nelson, Peter Breck, Joby Baker, Rita Lee, Pam Austin, Johnny Money, Sheb Wooley, The Brothers 4, and Judy Henske.

The first "Uncle Buck" Cindy Russell must call on her sick father. Her single choice for someone to watch her children is good old Uncle Buck. Foolish Buck has to in some way pull himself together and take care of the children for a few days.

Deep in My Heart is a classic movie from the year 1954. Guest actors Walter Pidgeon, Paul Henreid, Rosemary Clooney, Gene and Fred Kelly, Jane Powell, Vic Damone, Ann Miller, Cyd Charisse, Howard Keel, Tony Martin. The life of composer Sigmund Romberg is not the material of high tirade, although film shines in production numbers with MGM guest stars. Highlights contain Kelly brothers' single film appearance together, Charisse's attractive and sensual dance number with James Mitchell, and a astonishing number characterizing Ferrer acting a whole show himself. Cast includes Jose Ferrer, Merle Oberon, Helen Traubel, Doe Avedon, Tamara Tumanova, Paul Stewart, Douglas Fowley, and Jim Backus.

Batman, The comic book television show hits the big screen. An evil and diabolical criminal, notorious as The Joker, is trying to take over Gotham City. The police are powerless to stop him. The city is in peril, until a new super hero emerges. An unidentified force, so to be called Batman comes on the scene and defeats The Joker and save the city.

My treasured motion picture, Happy Gilmore. Hockey player Happy Gilmore finds his slap shot power translates into 400 yard plus drives in golf. Needing money to help his grandma save her house, he is going to attempt pro golf. His putting is as poor as his driving is good, so he has a lot to learn. Overcoming all odds, Happy wins the tour championship and now can save grandma's home.

The Leading Man, British backstage show romantic movie in regards to an American film megastar who seduces a playwright's lonely spouse and his leading-woman mistress. When it might not make up its mind whether it's a comedy tirade or a light thriller, it is still extremely humorous stuff. Bon Jovi is excellent as the impetuous, dishonorable Yankee, and Galiena and Newton are fetching as the females snared in his web. Cast includes Jon Bon Jovi, Anna Galiena, Lambert Wilson, Thandie Newton, Barry Humphries, and David Warner.

Our top movie, Unlawful Entry, Michael and Karen Carr have had a terrifying experience. Someone broke into their residence, and attempted to steal from them. When Police officer Pete Davis shows up to help, he seems like a godsend. In the days to come they find officer Davis might be their worst nightmare.

Internal Affairs, Young police officer Raymond Avila works in the Internal Affairs Department of the Los Angeles Police Department. He and his colleague observe something shady with Dennis Peck. His financial situation is much stronger than expected on a police officer's salary. When Peck is aware of the investigation, he turns his attention away from his dishonest dealings to concentrate on Avila.
